Dear Raphaela,

I write to ask a favor if it is not too much trouble.

James Patrick Hosty, Jr., was the Dallas FBI agent who was its Oswald agent.

After his retirement he spoke and wrote much and was welcome in the Wall Street Journal and other papers with oped articles.

He had much to cover up and explain away and the papers helped him do that.

So, he decided to do a book.

From the reports I remember from last year it was to be published by a small New York publisher possibly a conservative one and should be out about now.

I would like to get a copy and to annotate it for the record for history.

But in the kind of weather we are having, I do not go out unless it is urgent, sometimes not then when I can postpone it.

I have no idea what the title is.

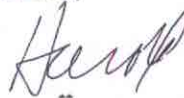

If without too much trouble you can get and send me a copy I'll appreciate it and will be glad to repay the costs.

We are making out about as well as we can expect to. We are both having trouble with hip joints, I also with knees. We have his and her canes and should have his and her walkers. My wife has one she uses rarely and I've not gotten one.

I hope all is going as well as it can with all of you.

Thanks if you can do this for me.

Best wishes,

Harold Weisberg
