Dear Harold:

I just received your letters of 10/25 and 10/28. I am glad to hear that you have finished Inside the Assassination Industry and have started another. These will be valuable additions to history. You have set a fine example by devoting your time to these endeavors without financial benefit, no doubt to your negative financial benefit.

Carrol & Graf has not responded to Nancy's request for a call back with more specific information. I did find out the name of the young lady, albeit just a first name, that Nancy talked with. The young lady's name at Carrol & Graf who answered the phone and told her that Never Again! was another name for Whitewash was "Janet."

I passed along to Nancy your thanks for her efforts and your request for a colleague in a different store. Maybe while I am in Phoenix I can snoop around a bookstore there and get some information. I will try to remember.

G. J. Rowell definitely includes more Harry stuff than anyone by right should. There are regular letters from Harry and articles. They continue exactly the same themes as found in Torturing the Truth.

On Wednesday of this week, Tom Peet, Roland Lane and I are getting together to put our presentation together. We are simply trying to share our conviction that the great American documents should be read, studied, and discussed by high school students, and also some hands on activities that have worked for us and that are efficient. Convincing people to take the time to actually have the students read the stuff is what is tough. They can't afford not to take the time, if done right. I drop you a card from Phoenix. We'll be staying with my sister.

It is Tom and I that are planning of visiting Frederick in the spring, perhaps also with Pete Johnson, another Westerville networker, who accompanied us to Nashville last year just to watch. He is a pharmaceutical salesman.

I have a mailing from the Coalition on Political Assassinations that mentions you and Case Open and Never Again! in a favorable light. They are the birds, I believe, who had you originally listed as a speaker for their October conference in Washington. In Volume 1, #1, August 1994 issue, they say, in part, "Long-time critic and investigator Harold Weisberg, whose early Whitewash series demolished the Warren Report's (sic) methods and conclusions, has responded to Gerald Posner's Case Closed with a rebuttal published by Carroll and Graf titled Case Open. Weisberg will follow with his latest book, Never Again from the same publisher, an autobiographical record of his struggle to reveal the facts, due in March." (Paper titled Open Secrets) Enclosed also find an article from an Arizona paper from my sister. You may keep it, especially if it is useful.

Sincerely, Dave Keck
