Dear Harold,

About a month ago, I videotaped the ABC-TV's "Nightline" show which had a rather startling story about the King assassination. I don't know if you saw or heard it or about it. The story had to do with a prominent businessman's paying $100,000 to someone to kill King! The story continued on to say that these people will give testimony, naming names, details, etc, as to this plot if they are given immunity from prosecution by the Tennessee District Attorney's office. Do you, Harold, know about this development re this story? If you DO, can you tell/write me as to what you think about it in terms of its accuracy or non-accuracy, as you see it? From that one-month-ago-story till now, I've heard absolutely nothing more about it ANYWHERE!! Please let me know what you think about it if you know the story and, if not, I can send you the videotape of the TV show in its entirety to apprise you of it. So please write me soon, one way or the other, OK??..OK!! Much obliged. Hoping this letter finds you and the Mrs. OK and healthy . Very best regards to her and yourself from Anita & I.

yours truly,

Ted & Anita

I did not stay up for that show because I do not believe any part of that tale. I did interview Jowers as Ray's investigator and we did produce him as a witness and he did testify. There are too many holes in the story, too much that does not stack. The probability is that you have ^{heard} hard nothing because there is nothing worth the time or space in the papers, not because they are suppressing. If the DA was smart he give them the hearing an bash them down. I hope he is not that smart. Bad enough without that. These wild tales never help and always hurt. Maybe they want to sell a book or a movie.

I would not take the time to look at the tape but it might be good to have for the historical record, thanks. Best to you both,

Harold
