Dear Lou,

I had delayed copying this Bostright material until I had a chance to read what there is in addition to the letters. It is clear that the other things that I am doing are more important immediately, so late last night I copied it. When you can get one of the girls to do it, would you please Xerox it and return, then I'll send his originals back to him.

er
If Moo makes an analysis of the remained of the material by then and he wants me to go further with it, ask him to let me know. I'll study what he has lifted from his journal to see if I want him to copy those pages. Perhaps Moo will want this. Either way I'll ask him.

This is part of what I told you I'd hand Jim Friday. However, I think there will be better control if I send it to you.

I want be able to see the Barbara here this coming week. I'll try and do it before I go down. It will not be until after I finish transcribing the tapes she cannot do that I can get my wife to do the Bostright one. However, maybe one day when I am away she can, if the control is not too stiff for her fingers. If she can do it then, I'll bring it with me.

I have recently fleshed out my Thornley file with Commission documents that are new to me. If you will have Tom send me a list of those you have I'll copy any I have that you do not and send them to you. I think I do have some I did not see in your file and I just haven't time to list what I have right now.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
