Dear Mr. Weisberg,

Nov. 17, 1983

Thank you for responding so quickly to my letter. I know you must be especially busy considering the fact that the twentieth anniversary of the J.F.K. assassination is approaching. I have been interviewed by a couple local television stations and I have found it very difficult to communicate some of the essential evidence of cover-up and deception in the space of a 10-20 minute interview. I am surprised at how little these T.V. people know about the Warren Commission case itself, not to mention any of the criticism of it.

By now (or very soon) you should have received an order from the Wofford College Bookstore for 20 copies of Post Mortem and Whitewash. If you decide not to reprint Whitewash or reproduce it by other means, I will contact you sometime in December about borrowing a copy (sending the $25 deposit) and perusing it myself. I have also decided to use Whitewash in a criminology course next semester, so if you decide to reprint the bookstore here will be ordering another 20 copies or so. Again, thank you so much for everything.

Sincerely,
Gerald Ginochis

Dear Dr. C.,

Doing what was required by media interest in the anniversary has put me farther behind in urgent FOIA litigation matters and I've not yet been able to think the reprint matter through. I may have some copies reproduced by offset. In any event, I'll let you know and at worst you'll be able to make xeroxes.

One of the things that took some time was the rather bad Oswald's Games, by Jean Davison. I went over it thoroughly, by request, rather over proofs, and there is no doubt at all that she is deliberately dishonest with regard to Oswald. I made preparation, again by request, to address these matters on the Pacifica special of night before last only to have the moderator cut me off under conditions that were arranged to leave me voiceless - they cut the phone and I was not in the studio. While I have no reason to believe you will be at all interested in her, I'll keep what I did on file if it ever interests you.

Meanwhile, if you see anything on her or her book because it serves official, particularly intelligence, interests so well, I'd like copies.

Norton is the publisher and, remarkably, is withholding the usual biographical data always used to promote. She is a former Athens, Ga., English instructor at, I think, a branch of the state univ., is married to a zoologist who is at the Univ. of Vt. at Burlington, won a prize for a novel, has two daughters, and all of this is in Contemporary Authors. But even that Norton has not distributed.

TV and sometimes speeches create problems for those of us who try to inform fully. One solution is resort to int unrelated, conclusory short sentences. For example: The crime was beyond the capability of any one man, there a conspiracy. Then: Nobody in the world has been able to duplicate the shooting attributed to Oswald. Then: the Commission used the best experts the NRA could provide and they didn't even come close. Then you can add even more, if needed. Each of these simple and quite truthful statements can be amplified. But unless you are questioned, for TV it isn't necessary, and one does follow the other if you are questioned.

Hope WBT-TV used you. They were here and knew of you.

Library order not here yet.

Best wishes,
