

Da Dear Gerry,

7/16/98

We do look forward to seeing you! All of you at one time!

On the 18th we have physical therapy from which we should be home by 10. From P.t. on Monday, about an hour later. But on the 21st I see my cardiologist at 10. Hope that will not mean cutting your visit, which will be short, even shorter. He is about 15 minutes from here if there are no traffic problems.

The Neichters will be here for several day beginning the 23 or 24th. Also then a new friend from whom you will hear. He is doing the retyping for me, Clay Gilvie. He'll be here beginning then and for as I recall for 5 days. Dennis comes on I think the 27th, and we look forward to that.

Another friend you do not know, Bill Mills, in California, is sending Dennis copies of what he is getting from the Dallas city archive.

Tgis in haste so I can ask someone who is coming to mail it. Our mail is gone for the day and the weather is not for me to be out in!

Looking forward,

Harold

Dear Harold,

July 14, 1998

I am now into my seventh week of summer school. The hot, dry weather and unmotivated students have taken their toll on me. On the side, I have also been teaching Claire how to drive, which has been unnerving at times. Nonetheless, I have managed to begin a large-scale review of what I have on JFK, mainly notes on books and documents. If I can finish that task over the next few months, I should be able to do some writing and see more clearly what else I will need.

I also took some time out to read Jerry's book, The Last Crusade, which I liked and am using in a course I am teaching on the civil rights movement. I wrote up a series of guide questions to it, which I will be sending to Jerry soon, or bringing up.

The main reason I am writing is to let you and Lillian know that we are travelling up to the DC area this weekend to visit with Hanh-Trangs cousin and his wife, who just had a baby a couple months ago. This is the same couple whose wedding we went to a few years ago. We will be returning to South Carolina on Tuesday, the 21st. What we'd like to do is stop for a short visit with you that morning (around 10AM) before we travel home. It would give you a chance to see the whole family for a change, and not just me. It may also be possible to get together sometime during that weekend (Sat. 18th-Mon. 20th). I will call sometime on Saturday to see what we can work out.

I heard about the release of the Zapruder film on video yesterday on NPR. They selected Max Holland to downplay the significance of it. From what was described it sounds like it will be better than anything I currently have on video.

Best,
