Dear Harold,

I hope this letter finds you and Lillian doing better during these difficult days. I am sorry I have not written more often but this has been a busier semester than most. I am teaching an extra course at a local junior college because someone they hired to teach four sociology classes got cold-feet at the last minute and left town. So I agreed to fill in.

Enclosed is a fairly finished first draft of an article based on the research I did this past summer. It will take me another few weeks to complete the footnotes, but the draft contains the numbers to each of the footnotes. It took me much longer to complete because I had to do some of the writing and typing after classes began. Of course, any comments you might want to make would be welcome, but please don't drop any other project to do this.

This coming January I plan to do a special course on the evidentiary hearing transcript which you let me copy when I was up there with Bill N. . I am also thinking of requiring students in this project to read Frame-Up. If I did have to order some copies of Frame-Up, should I go through you? Or perhaps enlist Jerry McKnight's help? At this point, I really don't know how many will sign up. My guess is that it will be a fairly small number, probably less than 10.

Again, I hope you and Lil are doing better. Also, please don't hesitate to contact Manh-Trang about any nutrition questions related to dialysis.

Best,

Gary
