Dear Ms. Henry,

Although the aroma should have attracted my attention to it earlier, I've just come on your March 17, 1992 issue in which you invented quotes attributed to me that are hurtful to me and to my reputation. Although it may have seemed innocent enough to you, making up what is the exact opposite of what I've always said and believed about the JFK assassination and putting it within quotes is the kind of thing I've seen often enough in FBI and other files to be retrieved when they can be used to belabor or belittle those who do not agree with agencies like the FBI.

At the time I saw it I was shocked. I phoned Rod Gibson, who we've known for years. He told me an editor would phone. One did. I phoned him again and he gave the name of the one who would. But again didn't.

Instead I got a phone call from Bannister, who had told me not that he was writing a story for you but instead led me to believe it was for a British paper. He told me that all in that story other than what I said about the memo by the deputy AG Katzenbach had been added, that he had not written it. I asked him for a copy, he said he'd send it, and he didn't.

There is nothing you can do to relieve the harm you have done my reputation and perhaps you may regard it as asking much of you. But for the record I would appreciate your finding a tiny spot in which you state that the statements attributed to me in that issue had not been made by me. Even in the classifieds!

I would like to think that if Rod had known you were running that story he'd have told you that I never said or believed such stuff as you invented to put in quotes and with my name.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
