Trent Gough called me tonight. I do not have time for the entire thing to be noted, but I do think it important to note these things:

A number of people (presumably including himself), have been in touch with Nacht recently. They seem to be encouraging him to do something. I warned Trent that those who did not have the kind of knowledge required should leave this alone, for the chances of ruining something enormously important and promising were great, that few if any of the experts were in this field. He said he hears rumors something is supposed to come out in a few days.

He does not trust Lamarre, has seen the movie and thinks it is awful. Lamarre offered him a copy of the 2 film, which Trent said he'd like to have.

Lamarre said he had some of the autopsy pictures.

Like me, Trent cannot but wonder why, if he does have them, he failed to use them in his film.
