Dear Rev. Graetz,

If you will please forward the enclosed to Virginia Durr, I'll appreciate it much. I hope her eyes are still good! She is ten years older than I am.

No secrets in it if you or Dave would like to read it.

I found your book ^avery interesting and valuable account of those stressful days.

I'm giving it to the Hood library now instead of when it gets all I have so students can read it and Virginia's book now and learn and benefit from them.

It is a Methodist college with an active program of minority recruiting and scholarships and an excellent attitude, school and student body, toward minorities.

Last year's student-body president was a young woman from India.

The librarian, Charles Kuhn, is more than pleased to be getting these books. If you have or you know anyone else who had any information about the events you lived through down there, records, memoirs - anything at all - he is anxious to get whatever may be available.

Hood's attitude is wonderful. ^{The Vietnam issue} When ~~it~~ was not popular it let Sam Adams, who wrote the CBS-TV special on Westmoreland, do all his work there.

The Washington universities were closer and larger but Adams preferred Hood.

Once again, many thanks!

Best wishes,

Harold Weisberg
