Dear Dr. Hoff.

I'm sorry I can't be of much help in locating Penn ones. "e sort all flipped out some years ago, actually condemned me as a CIA agent, and I'd stated away from anything connected with him pretty much since then.

The last place # I heard of was the address you have at Maxahachie. I'd heard that his wife put him out and that after that he'd had a young woman living with him. I've forgotten her name.

I've never had any contact with Anson and have no address for him. After his book, if he ever had any farther interest I've not heard of it.

I have no idea who he could have been referring to in what you quote from his hook. This is because he describes the critic who went insane as having done some of the best research and the only one I can think of who had serious emotional problems does not, in my view, qualify for Anson's description. That was the late Joachin Epesten. His later stuff was rabid and irrational. His and Buchanan's books were, for their time, quite important. But we soon knew that they work was at the least dated.

I don't hear from the Texas civitics often and I've not heard any one of them mention Penn in years so I don't know which if any of them can give you his present address.

Sorry I canst be of more help.
