After his release he re-t urned to Canada under threat of deportation, but stayed only a short time be fore returning to his guerrille activity, which led him into the arms of the Grand Bahaed in Florida in March after the fatal shooting of Haitian exile (Cerard D. Baker) while Wednesday afternoon. er, with only a red stripe marking on its tail, on a U.S. missile-tracking station on Grand Bahama Island London Unt A Canadian who spent in days in a Miami jud for guer-rilla activities new is in the Florida Everglades swamp. on guerrilla training custody of the Bahamas po-lice following a bombing raid this week over 7 ort a u-Guerrillas lockheed Constellation bombpullet-riddled, crew of 10 which mas plice. oeuvres 50 miles bean Republic of Haiti. Prince, capital of the Carib-DEMPSEY WAS Dempsey 26, of it, was first arrestfour-engined landed a into the anadian mankilled THE BOMBING raid on Port-au-Prince h a p p e n e d Wednesday night when an un-identified aircraft flew over the city and unloaded six 55-gallon oil drums containing high octane fuel with burning persons had been charged with illegal entry, although last night the eight Ameri-cans in the plane crew, were flown out to Mami. The 10th crew member, a presidential palace of president Francois Papa Doc Duralier, killing two adults, a six-month old child and inju-It is not yet known where the other bombs landed, ring 20 persons. landed in the grounds of the uses. Haiti exile remains in custody Grand B a h a m a s police chief Taomas Clunie said 10 Today he is in custody of the Grand Bahamas police while the Canadian High with Dempsey. maica investigates his Commission in Kingston uons. One of these crude bombs three ŕ ac-11 - 11 53-Immediately after the at-tack, Hatian officials claimed the bomber had been flown from Cuba. Havana's reply was wath a plane is nothing more than the senile mental-ty of Duvalier... , hud ŧ, WILLIAM DEMPSEY JUN 科 All and 著 ALL. 65612 「ちょうちょう No re -教 Sup be former Hattan army offi-cer (Rene J. Leon the man behind the Hattian part of the exile training group in Flori-da, which was also run in DUVALIER made a 12-min-ude broadcast Thursday night and said the filight originated from South Caicos Island, at the south-eastern tip of the IN JULY, 1967, he led four Americans and four Cubans conclusions." that was uncovered by police. Asked if that group was planning an invasion of Haiti, he replied: "draw your own were 10 Haitians in the group a Spectator reporter an fact, when Dempsey Came home to London, he told iles. conjunction, with Cuhan exboat. Key, between 800 and you miles from Haiti, in a small have set out to attempt a landing after the bombing. The expedition left Florida Bahamas. An exile force of about 20 persons is also believed to One of them is believed 5 JUN there 5 THE SHOOTING alerted po-lice to the group's activities, their camp in the everglades was uncovered. Demosey and other members in the group were jailed for 11 days while police carried out an investi-gation. they were force back to Miami. 7 1959 las in his training group vas accidentally shot dead during a staged ambush, in the ever-Miami County, an hour's drive from glades, about two miles off State Road 94 in Monroe Nothing more was heard of Dempsey until March 15 this, year when one of the guerilreached the Cuban coastline when a generator blew and they were forced to paddle ammunition, slipped out of the Miami river. They almost saboteurs from prison. agreed to release four Cuban crew hostage until Castro ban fishing boat and hold its in an attempt to seize a Cus and with food, They took a motor boat weapons and Papi ener (two, netimmett) ANTATOR SAFECTATOR

He was a 22-year-old Haitian Gerald Baker.)

Baker was one of 12 men, under Dempsey's command, who were living in a camp about two miles into the everglades, off State Road 94 in Mon-roe County - about an hour's drive from downtown Miami.

To get into the camp, where trees had been felled to make a clearing, you walk a mile along a rough trail through the low tangle of shrubs and the termine red has been been the towering red bay trees.

For neighbors, the guerillas had wild turkeys, raccoons, bobcats, frogs and snakes. Then there were the crocodiles and alligators in the stag-nant pools of shallow water. Not a pleasant place.

The Dempsey Dozen, like the Viet Cong, had crude protection devices — sharpened bamboo sticks and nails protructing from boards — around their camp.

Dempsey later explained to police how Baker was killed:

The guerillas were divided into an attack squad, including Baker, and an ambush party.

They were using live ammunition and when the groups made contact the orders were given by hand signals, said Dempsey. 36

The ambush party fired a volley of shots and the attackers crouched down, rifles at the ready.

Then somebody fired a second volley and Baker sprawled to the ground.

"We knew he was hurt bad set a couple of the guys carried him out to the road and hitched a ride in accar to Miami," stid Dempsey. B a k er was dead when they wheeled him into Miamits with they Hosnital Hospital.

Hospital. An autopsy attributed used to a single shot in the heart. "We didn't try to hush it up or s anything," explained Dempsey. He walked along the road until he found a phone where he called the police. Six Monroe County deputies, led by Lieut. Terry Jones, mes Dempsey on the road and he led them to the camp.

camp. The man suspected of firing the fatal shot was 21-year-old (Charles) Smith who surrendered to the police.

on orders from Dampsey. Smith, who is also from Half, had joined the guerilles after desert-ing from the U.S. Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune, N.C. Licut. Jones says Smith was cleared at a coroners inquest and lat-er turned over to Marine Corps authorities.

Dempsey and the others were held 11 days in jail until police completed their investigations.

They were released when the lice decided not to press charges.

But by this time Dempsey had other troubles,

D e m p s e y 's lawyer, Lawrence Katz, of the Miami firm of Hoffman and St. Jean, intervened on his behalf with U.S. immigration officials.

They wanted to deport Dampsey. Katz made a deal. It was sgreed that if Dempsey paid his own plane fare out of the U.S. there would be no de-

"I guess you could say I left be-cause I'm an embarrassment to the U.S. government," said Dempsey.

He refused to confirm that his group was planning an invasion of Haiti but hinted: "There were 10 Hai-tians. Draw your own conclusions."

When Dempsey and his bunch were arrested, police collected 16 ri-fles, 16 .45 calibre pistols, jungle knives, ammunition and walkie-talkie knives, ammunation and many come equipment. Where does the money come from to buy these weapons? To feed and clothe the guerillas? "You shouldn't ask questions like that. There's just no way I'll answer "to use the paraget. it," said Dempsey.

"I've heard of whole families on Cuba being dragged from their homes and executed on the street because of the anti-Castro activities of some relative living in Florida."

Dempsey, wearing a new pair of blue jeans and a sweat shirt, looks bronzed and healthy. "Sure, I'm in good shape. I like to keep fit. I even carried on with the exercising while I was in jail," he caid he said. When he flew into Malton, a cou-ple of weeks ago, Dempsey had about $10 left.

"I guess I'll have to start looking for a job now. I'm pretty good at painting so maybe I'll get something in that line."

A PASS

And why did he do it? "I'll tell you one thing," he said. "It wasn't for the money. If it was I'd be in Blaira."

SPECTATON

WECHTON W Bill Dempsey to john a rag-tag band of would-he-warriors in the swampy ever-glades of Florida? Bill Dempsey knows. but he isn't talking. Not about that on anything about that, or anything.

He puts it bluntly: "What 1 do for a living is none of your damn business."

"You're wasting your time here. I'm not going to tell you anything. "It wouldn't be healthy for a lot of people if I shot off my mouth. Any-way, you probably know the story. Or you wouldn't be here."

"Here" was the home of his par-ents: a quiet detached bungalow in a typical London, Ontario, suburban street — Biscay Road.

We were in the living room. Dempsey added another cigarette to the pile of butts in the ashtray and reached for a fresh one.

Then he started talking about the weather, and airports, and the four walls. Anything but about the man who got shot; the ministure arsenal the police found; the plot to free four saboteurs held prisoner by Castro, Anything but what Bill Dempsey has been doing for the past eight years.

Jears. It was at least half an hour be-fore Dempsey even admitted some of the well-publicized (In Florida) facts about his eight years in everylades. But eventually facts began to slip out. It is noted that anti-Castro and anti-communist guerrillas active in Florida area't reknown for their pub-lic speaking.

lic speaking. Ward Open is do at THE SPECTATOR (HAMKTON, ONT.) NO DATE

HER SECTION THE

Bill Derapsey is 27. He's five-footcelever out of his combat boots. He weighs in at around 180 pounds. In the summer of 1961 he was 19, Speak out of Stratford Collegiato. Insti-tute and making a few dollars each week as a house painter. But it bored him. He is the son of a former army captain and berhaps a former army captain and perhaps it was an inborn appetite for adventhre which made him unhappy in his 23

Dempsey had learned the discip-line and acquired a knowledge of the military life during a stint with the milita in Stratford and in London.

militia in Stratford and in London. And either during his final year at college, or soon after, he tried to join the regular army. He was r. of us e d ou medical grounds. He has a slightly withered left arm — since birth — nothing particularly noticeable, but enough to hall an army medical. In June is July, while Bill Demp-say was pondering file fource and get-ting more bared with houses and paint, four of his former achool bud-dies and he should quit work for a few weeks and join them in a trip down to Miami. Not for long. They were only going to skay a couple of were only going to stay a couple of weeks.

As Bill Dempsey stubbed another cigarette he opened the door to a few questions. "I guess if won't hurt to tell you I just went along for the ride."