

Yona 1/27/76

Understand. But it is precisely in the political area where the obfuscation and the lack of certain fact makes projection of the theoretical dangerous. Good luck.

HW 1/28/75

January 27, 1976

Mr. Harold Weisberg

Rt. 8

Frederick, Maryland 21701

Dear Mr. Weisberg:

The copy of Post Mortem arrived yesterday.

Enclosed please find my check for $10.75. The book looks chock full of information that should help me to better

seperate the relevant from the not so relevant in the area that I have been pursuing. I am afraid however that I'll be getting into it at a fairly slow pace for now. Since the 2nd week in December, I have been out of work, but next Monday I intend to be a full-time student in a local teacher's college and presumedly will be spending alot of time with my school books. All things considered, I am going to hold off for a while on your suggestion that I also have Whitewash IV.

About my seriousness concerning the subject, my main motivation comes from the fact that I was a member of the FPCC in Baltimore, and at the time of the assassination I and a number of others here were mildly harassed by the local political police. My on-going interest in wanting to find the real perpetrators stems partly from lingering indignation about what happened here. Also, I still think of myself as a political person and have thought that a little more political input in the matter might be helpful to the people who have been investigating the factual aspects. Of course, what I have learned in my brief exchange of letters with you is that you are attuned to both aspects. It remains to be seen if I can really get myself to go very far beyond considering the politics of it. In any case, whereas I,ve had free time for the last month and one-half, very shortly I'll probably be bogged down in trying to get my degree. I hope this will explain to you better what my motivations are and how consumed I am willing or able to get ~~in the~~ in the question.

1961, 12, 12

Yours truly,

Herman M. Heyn
5509 Bosworth Ave.
Baltimore, Maryland 21207

and gradually will be spending a lot of time with my political books. I think considered, I am going to hold off for a while on your suggestion that I also have a few articles written out by someone concerning the subject of my motivation comes from the fact that I was a member of the CP in Baltimore, and at the time of the assassination a number of other people were actively harassed by the local political police. My on-going interest in writing to find the real reasons for these things from the perspective of the individual who happened here. Also, I still think of myself as a political person and have thought that a little more political input in the latter might be helpful to the people who have been investigating the political aspects. Of course, when I was in the office, lack of certain fact makes projection of the theoretical dangerous. Good luck. Understand, but it is probably in the political area where the observation and the