

Barbara Reid's 4/68 interviews with George Higginbotham 5/22/71 HW

These are incomplete, and Garrison's fixations are interestingly noted, i.e., with the statement attributed to Banister, clearly in ref to 544, JG notes HM. I believe GH did work for Banister. So did the fascist Baunler, J.C.'s Bill Martin and others. Lou Davis, a real and a wealth fascist who helped Walker or perhaps financed his march on Oxford Miss, was one of JG's backers. I was in JG's office once when Davis called him.

GH is or was close to Robert K Brown.

The question is how much of this did Barbara feed to George and how much did he make up because he was in trouble (I helped him get his weapons back). Rather interesting, and making me wonder about feedback, is the Leahart mentioned. See CD 194:9-10. Same guy.

Sorry what it says about Davis at the bottom is illegible, for Davis has always been of some interest to me, the combination of his wealth and his political virulence.

Value, possible, also may be all made up.

G. is gay. Later story is that LHO attended a party at his place.

Large, intelligent man, makes impressive appearance, dresses well, etc.
