Dear Dennis,

Since getting the enclose^d/letter from Carol Deck yesterday along with two sealed containers of disks and what she had not returned earlier, corrected Chapter 21, I've been wondering how best to send them to you when your school may be closed for the break. I finally decided that if I send them certified and you are not home a notice will be left for you and you can pick them up at the post office or have them delivered the next day if one of you would then be home. I hope this does not cause any inconvenience but it does seem to be the safest way for this time of the year.

I also wondered if I should return the printouts to you but decided that rather than do that now I'd await word from you on it.

There remains ample reason to suspect that Carol was up to something not visible for she ignored at least six phone calls two of which were to her office when she was there, did not tell me when she moved and then got an unlisted phone number and stonewalled until I told her I'd see her in court. She also does not deny what I remembered for my previous letter to her, that bit about the FBI boyfriend. And none of this makes sense when she could have delivered the disks when she said she had too much work on her job to continue at a cost of only a quarter or an hour. And that half a year ago.

So, I do remain suspicious.

Hope you both have a good holiday,

Hardy

I've posted some corrections she did not make.

Whether the disks are the originals may be indicated by her notations on them, if made all at one time, etc.
