Dear Mr. and Mrs. Weisberg:

Thank you for taking time out of your day to allow me to visit with you in your home on Oct. 9th. I have certainly heard a great deal about both of you and the fond place in your hearts for Hood College. It was truly a pleasure to meet with you and have a chance to hear some of the wonderful stories about the exciting lives that you have led. You certainly have some fascinating stories. We are so fortunate that some of your experiences have been documented in your written works.

Your collection of government records is fascinating. We are grateful that you have been so generous to the College in terms of sharing these and your expertise. We also greatly value and appreciate your eventual estate plans for the College. You are most generous people and your planned long term gift will make a major difference in Hood's ability to respond to future challenges in a first rate manner. As educational costs increase, we find ourselves depending more on the generosity of caring and committed alumnae and friends. Thank you for all that you do for the College.

I did have a wonderful time meeting with you. I delivered the records and film cases to the library. Charles was pleased to receive both of those boxes. I do look forward to having an opportunity to visit with you again and appreciate your willingness to help to acclimate a new staff member to the Hood family.

Sincerely,

B. J. Davisson
