

Dear both,

12/23/98

Glad you are still here as lucky (and unlucky) we are, too.

I'm supposed to be keeping my left arm elevated to reduce the swelling from the access implant that had me at Johns Hopkins for five days of the two months -il spent in the local hospital and/or a nursing home specializing in physical therapy. I'm getting to where dialysis will be indicated, the preparation at Hopkins, and -il fell and cracked a hip only to fall again during treatment. But in those five days at Hopkins I ~~scribble~~ read and corrected another of the many manuscripts I leave as a record for history, all but the last two chapters that I did at home.

work, as Lonnie seems to be practicing, is ~~is~~ the ~~scribble~~ best medicine.

I agree with you on the impeachment mess but I go farther. While there is no excuse for Clinton's behavior, the Republican right extreme is set on altering the Constitution, to make us more of a parliamentary form of government, to undermine the executive, and I'm an old fogie on the Constitution. I think the founding fathers were the greatest political thinkers of all time.

And that even if there is what is not proven, real perjury, it is not at all the same as treason.

Best to you all,

Dear Hal & Lil,

Hope all is well with you. I'm still working every day even though I have developed thyroid trouble. It is under control with medication, and my heart continues to pump.

Meanwhile, I continue to be quoted and misquoted in books and publications. It will never end.

What do you think about the impediment mess? Somebody really did a job on Clinton, but he didn't help himself any. I think Gore would be a good president. Drop us a line as ever,

Lorrie

Greetings of the Season and best wishes for the New Year
