

Fri 12/3/71 - Row HLT 3:15 - 3:35 in his court office. He asked me to write columns for him, saying "We pay for them" and, after a pause, "if we list them." He gave me a set of his books through a secretary, temporarily replacing his regular one, telling her to put them in a bag. He returned with the books and what he had labeled as the "high-power stuff," and with 2 brown envelopes. This triggered one of those most almost-intoxicating displays in which he said "The bag is important." It turned out to be a ^{poly} plastic bag advertising "Life Line" on one side & his countries on the other.
I was then leaving. As I left I had not taken too much of his time, so much he responded that his time was not worth anything. I responded with a comment about how much we had had but it to me he ~~felt~~ ^{felt} pleased if a little bit saying that ^{nothing} gets into my office unless I want to see them!

His voice is very weak, he seems to lose himself in the middle of a thought, but in most cases, after a pause, he picks back up.

• He read me a report which he had written about Kissinger & said he had to change it to put in his age at the time he came to the U.S. (15) instead of only the date & the years he spent at Harvard (15). The way it is typed I was supplied with many copies it is hard to see how he could have made more complete use of so tiny a slip of paper.

He told me all about how PO is a work who was in contact with his food people, that he had stolen a little & had made possible their theft of millions.

He wanted to call PR Man of the + his for other "TSA" or a copy, in his presence, in the room with a bed & psychiatric equipment.
