Dear Lou,

The letter in the enclosed envelope was a rather important one. When I got it, six days late although properly addressed & with but a single postmark, indicating it had not been rerouted, I wondered if it had been opened. My own peeling back of the flap made me wonder also. It is from a guy I have put in touch with a former photographer who interviewed a number of Dallas witnesses immediately and may have information of value for your case. He is in touch now, by phone. Also enclosed was what I regard as rather valuable information of Frazier. I have asked him to put it all in a memo to Al and Bill and send it directly to them.

Also enclosed is a list of the calls I have made on your card. Until I get the new card number, should it be necessary, I will not be able to -and I will not make any for which I have to pay, for I cannot.

From what little I have seen in the papers (I've not had time to read them), if I were going to pick out a juror who might be a sleeper for the other side it would be the guy who saw Mark's movie and says he was not influenced by it.

Thanks for directory pages.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
