Mr. Weisburg:

Again, thank you for a hospitable visit to your home and for a most interesting conversation.

Regarding your gracious offer to make available photographs and a personal interview concerning the Loraine Motel incidents, I am most appreciative, but we acquired background information and photos on a recent visit a staff photographer and I made to Memphis. We're saving the material for a larger editorial effort to be soon forthcoming.

Bad news about the Judiciary Committee transcripts: our ration of document copies have already been met, and it's doubtful we can get our hands on more. Due to printing costs, committee staffers claim, the volumes are being distributed like gold bars.

Sorry I can't be of help this time.

Take care and good luck to you with your writing chores.

Sincerely,

Grayson Mitchell
