Don't know why I forgot to med I this. Just found it. Tom got to Washington Firday a.m. We spoke over a cup of coffee, while he drove around with me on shome shopping I had to do, and then went to the archive, where he is not accredited and introduced. I picked up declassified Document 6, a Gemberling report, that an AP man Gevzer was using (he was apparently out to lunch) and we went through it until some fevzer was using (he was apparently out to lunch) and we went through it until some of some I'd earlier requested came out. He then went through it alone and found an appear I'd earlier requested came out. He then went through it alone and found an interesting and possible important thing, an amateur movie of the Oswald leaflet operation described in the FHI report as consisting of two people, Oswald and another. I got a copy real cuick and now we both have copies. I'm to meet him again Monday. I got a copy real cuick and now we both have copies. I'm to meet him again Monday. I was in New Primars York two days this past week. Had an innocuous appearance on the Barry Gray show and s hot one with Nizer. I'm looking forward to tangling with him on the "Majority Report" how that I've got the feel of him (and it is so slippery!). He is a list-manufacturer on such a scale he makes Jerry Vohen look angelic, and with it he combines all the vile, filthy, sneaky tricks and slanders lawyers have learned over the centuries to slip in. He's by fer the brightest of the other side, the least acrupalous, the most able and uninhibited, but he doesn't know what he is talking about and really doesn't care. I believe his real onjective is to get the exposure to sell his new book, not defense of the Commission. He is so unconcerned a list he does not even resent having it said to his face. He is with all of this corrupt and dishonest, for he persuaded or bemboozled the woman who runs the show to give him the first half hour to give the side he says has never been heard:

Spoke briefly to Sylvia when I was there and spentsa couple of hours with Jones Harris, who I'd never met before. Going back 1/30, returning about 2/1 or 2/2 and leaving for New England about 2/6. Won't get much writing done in the immediate future.

Best to all of you, including Batman and Robin, from us both.

Sincerely,
