

JDW: Sorry I forgot a sheet of tissue in writing Susman. I think it may be appraent that I may be forcing the government to disclosures that can destroy the entire JFK whitewash. I am, of course, aware that this can destroy the literary possibilities of the work I have already completed. Whatever happens I will have a record good enough to take to one of the Congressional committees that do have jurisdiction if they elect to accept it. This will relate to the FBI's part. Because for all practical purposes they did all the investigating, this ought mean the entire story. I do have this in mind and I do also have it in mind in the enclosures relating to the coming NYU student bar association symposium, where one of the subcommittee chairpersons is supposed to be and whence word will go whether or not she is. Abzug, H. Jud. One of the letters Jim read me says that the SS did transfer to the Archives, but it seemed to say otherwise while not saying otherwise by use of Evelyn Lincoln's name. The acrual transfer not specified in that letter was to the Kennedy library, which was part of the Archives in any event. HW 3/30/75
