Dear Ed,

4/27/74

When you phoned several nights ago I was asleop. I never went to sleep so early in my life. Thet night I was so tired I not only didn't hear the phone ring, inl could not awakon me. And when she finally did and we started talking, it was much the asme, I just couldn't stay alert.

I fireguess I am just that worn out, partly the years, partly the hours and partly the strains.

Night before last I fell asleep looking at the IV news. The seme night, wanting very much to see the ABC sepoial on govornment intruaions into private livea, I slept through afl of it, bolt upright. (If you can get a transcripts I would like it as a natter of record for I do have fijies on that subject. $I$ think it was calié " "Paper Prison.")

And last night I again foll asleep sitting up.
My winter was not all that inactive. I'm out of shape but not that badly. I camied loge all winter long that young as you are you would not have found easy. but all of a sudden it has hit ma. In the course of repairing the dam that feeds the pond, I appear to have pulled a muscie or muscles in the oheat. 't got unoomfrotable enough to go to the hasipital, where all the chocks for heart aitack were made and were negative, I guess I puiled a maecle I didn't know was there for pulling. Amd each dat I make it a point to get some physical work in. Thus lar it merely tires me more.

So, this explanation and apoloey for a phone conversation that must have left you wondering.

I have geveral other purposes in uriting.
I am getting a visit from a British correspondent who is also a medical expert. He is interested in Post Mortem with a vien to seeing if he can bell enough rights from it to pay for the printing of the work. All the others I have trusted with the new final part, I think is it called II and is the "pyax rather than the rerow copy, have failed to return them. I do not want you to revirn it before you heve read it. And I could use a sorox of two. If this man turns out to be a decent man, I would make hin the offer I made of which you have read, that he could condense it for a popular mork, in size and in content. I would not oerratt this without the full work being availabls because it just would not be believed. He will be here in a week and a half, if you can make me a xerom.

Jim, although much younger: is gotining into the stato of exchaustion in which I am. His wife had to give him aleeping pills the other night. He also is into too much. The governmanta with which we contand are running our asses off. Mhus far, however, they are hurting thasabolvea, at least as a mattor of record(s). Eupccially in no nevest suit, 2502 - 73 , where I have just pinned what is close to a falsomenearing rap on J. Lee Rankine Fortumately, my falling memory, at least compared to whet it was, has worted welly wnough. We are filing the government's own recoris to prove they are lying to the court. In quantity! What this will mean in cost on appeal is another matter, but we surely are mading a recoxd. (In time Jim will have copiea of all of these papers. Right now I don't even have a full set.)

Dimondstein made no response at all to the letter you drafted and Jim sent. So wo now have to file a complaint. Uan you possibly find time to draft one in liew York style and send it and anstructions on how I can ifle it pro se? Finding a lawjer anywhere pus whan you have no front money $i 3$ impossible and I see no posaibility of survival without collocting some of this. (WIth Dell there should be enough in it to pay a layyer well. The guy who had the case first got auspended and thon skipped. Hobody knows where he i.s.)

I have decided that the time has come for any entirely different patergate boois than the one of which I have more than 500 pages written and I heve enough for an entirely new one. I'll be starting it as soon as I can. In corneotion with it I may nant to comacaing borrow Cive Us This Day to copy quotes 1 have marked on the gaileys. No, I just remember that Jim has a copy and I ge can get his easier. Thanks for anything you oan do. Herurex Hope we see you soon. It is getting beautiful here, with all the extra work that reanst
