

Rt. 12, Frederick, Md. 21701

Dear Fho,

We haven't moved. They've renumbered the routes.

As Jim probably told you I have a heavy case of phlebitis. It limits what I can do but not what I'm willing to. Even though I can't keep up with the day-to-day work I'm going to enter another project simply because it must be done. In it your thinking could be quite helpful to me. So, if you are ever going to be near here in the next couple of months, please let me know and please try to have some time. Travel is difficult for me. I can't safely drive to Washington or Baltimore, but I do travel and manage to make arrangements when it is necessary.

If I did not regard it as important and did not believe you can be of this value I'd still want to see you but I'd not do the travelling. I'll be in Washington on the 4th and 5th, for a medical checkup and for a calendar call in an FOIA case, both a.m.

I'm onto something two different ways but I'd rather not discuss it except in person. There is time because I have no choice. Meanwhile, I'll work away.

Here are the books for which you sent the checks by Jim. Thanks.

I was surprised when you asked for Whitewash IVs because I thought they were among those I sent you sort of on consignment. Checking the records it was not. I'm sorry. I think you could have made good use of the transcript in it, as perhaps that of 1/22/64 in Post Mortem.

Post Mortem is heavy and unedited but I had no real choice. It cleaned<sup>out</sup> and jeopardized me to bring it out but I had no choice. The lawyer in you will recognize why and what it does and why it gets no attention. The day after I did the last thing in which I was essential in the printing is when I learned I had phlebitis. It was printed while I was in the hospital. I was able to print it by risking being able to reprint the earlier books the revenue from which I'd out into an escrow account for this purpose and from a couple of consultancies, happily anti-fink consultancies. If I'd know I have phlebitis I might not have risked it. No sure. Possibly I would have anyway. Work has a purpose and obligations have to be met.

I hope you and Jim were together long enough for you to perceive how great he is.

If you have sold the other books, the total is $40.09. If not, let it wait, you may sell them.

I'm going to have more flyers printed flat. Folded they get torn up in shipment and are more difficult to carry. And store. So, if you'd please let me know how many you can use, for the immediate and for the future, I'll add that to the planned order. You'll then have them in a box like letterheads come in.

I do hope you are well and that you last forever!

best,
