

Dear George,

2/21/84

I hope the fat envelope didn't scare you!

This is for that large CBS archive on assassinations. I don't know where it is, who runs it, etc. I hope forwarding it is not too much trouble. Thanks.

It is parts of Chapter IV of the identified draft of a book, never published.

CBS was represented on the panel of experts who, alas, had nobody to handle the press. As a result, with the opening lines everyone rushed for the phones and widespread inaccuracy resulted. Because the opening lines led to a conclusion not in accord with the full text.

If CBS would like a copy of the whole thing I'll be glad to ask my source to provide it.

I've not heard from Fred. There is a little news on that front. The government denies threatening my lawyer and then spells out exactly how it was done. That filing also confirms that they have no intention of trying to collect from me although I am the supposedly errant one.

My own belief is that they are torn between a strong desire to establish ~~and~~ a new and repressive precedent, clobbering me at the same time, and the fear that it can kick back on them. As in other days, with little doubt, it would have.

Best wishes,
