

Dear Art, I've just returned for a short but arduous trip for a man with phlebitis. I'm tackling the accumulation, which I can do in bits and pieces and stop without forgetting what I'm doing. So, I came to whatever is in this envelope from some time back.

It reminds me that also a while back I wrote David Slawson, professor of law at USC, after a student sent me a copy of a Slawson letter. I challenged Slawson to a debate on his turf, his conditions. I've had no reply.

How about doing a keeper and asking him is he is afraid to confront and prefers to be able to present one side only, as in a major newspaper? I'd appreciate his response for my files. Belin did it. The rest won't.

I've made the same kind of approach to Specter who when asked said he'd have to think it over. I reminded him he has been thinking it over for ~~4~~ 10 years and asked if a man who in all that time can't make up his mind is ~~he~~ fit to be a Senator?

Oral arguments Ray appeal before 6th circuit set for 2/3. My newest FOIA suit to go before a judge had the calendar call postponed from day after tomorrow to 2/5. Two others, one on appeal the other not yet before a district court.

What I hope is my recovery seems to be slow. I still can push myself but I also tire easily. Thanks and best,
