By this time it was apparent that none of the content was relevant to the King assassination. However, there were statistics to be compiled, they being the best available substitute for actual performance, and all these records had been compiled. Such as what must be a fair percentage of the dry-cleaning and laundry establishments in that area. Page after page of them. In fact page after page out of state, like in W. Va. Same with dance studios. Then auto checks, too, none relevant.
