Dear Jim,

Roger, who was disturbed by the letter he got from Vinson, may be interested in the enclosed. From the AG down, they all cut one record and stick in that groove.

Those second-hand tapes, boxes, rechargeable batteries, etc., could still be of considerable help, regardless of the size or kind of tape, cassette, etc.

I hope you can find the time to make the check-I asked, for it seems increasingly significant. Separated as I am by all these miles, I fear the countermoves of the other side may on one major source have already been effective.

This person did threaten to kill Jim, did say he met with the JFK assassins, is securely out of circulation, and may be about to be transferred to a more secure place, reputedly specializing in the trickiest kind of psycho work. I hope you can do it very soon. I have again asked Louis to send you the other names and numbers. If I haven't heard from you soon I'll make a list of them myself. I do think this can be very important and I'd like you to share it with no one until we have this all done, when I'll be in touch with you about it.

I don't know when I'll be there again. I should be now. However, relatively slight as the fare to N.C. is, it is more than I have. If I could only be invited to make a speech or have a debate in the LA area, or to do a show that pays transportation, I could stop off in N.C. on the way back at no extra cost. Ah, how one dreams!

Best to you all, and thanks. If Steve can prove what I know, you will have a good story. It will say how and by whom funds were obtained for a different purpose and how and by whom they were made available for company or other use in N.C.

Sincerely,
