GOP Tie Denied by ITT Head

Geneen Insists He Didn't Know About Memo

Washington Post Staff Writer

Harold S. Geneen, president of the multibilliondollar International Telephone and Telegraph Corp., testified yesterday that there was "absolutely no connection" between the settlement of three government antitrust cases against ITT and its contribution to help bring the Republican National Convention to San Diego this year.

In a late afternoon appearance before the Senate Judiciary Committee, the executive said "I know nothing" about a published memorandum by ITT chief lobbyist Dita D. Beard which linked the two matters.

Geneen conceded, however, that after Mrs. Beard's memorandum was published by syndicated columnist Jack Anderson, "some kind of documents were shredded" at the Wash-ington office of ITT by corporate officials from New York.

He said he had ordered an internal investigation of the shredding incident and would report back to the committee about it, perhaps today.

"This was probably more a reaction to the feeling that our files were open to the public than any attempt to prevent a review" of them, Geneen said.

In a 20-page prepared statement that he read, Geneen also insisted that ITT's commitment to support the GOP convention was $200,000rather than the $400,000 that has been reported and was confirmed by the Republican National Chairman, Sen. Bob Dole (R-Kan.) last week.

ITT's Sheraton subsidiary made the financial commitment, Geneen said, to promote a new luxury hotel being built in San Diego, on the condition that it be President Nixon's headquarters during the convention.

Geneen made public what he described as the text of a telegram making the $200,000 commitment.

In other developments on the ninth day of the Judiciary Committee investigation:

 Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) appointed a sixman subcommittee to fly to

See ITT, A13, Col. 1

ıl

ITT, From A1

Denver and interview the ailing Mrs. Beard in a hospital room there next Monday.

The subcommittee is to be chaired by Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) and will include Sens. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.), John V. Tunney (D-Calif.), Marlow W. Cook (R--Ky.), Charles McC. Mathias (R-Md.) and Edward J. Gurney (R-Fla.).

· As questioning of former Attorney General John N. Mitchell concluded, Tunney charged that either Mitchell or California Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke "is not telling the truth" about their meetings in Washington last year.

Reinecke told several reporters that he discussed financial arrangements for the GOP convention with Mitchell in Washington last May. But later he "clarified" his version of events after checking his files.

Mitchell has testified that he never met with Reinecke last May and that when the two did meet - last April and September - he does not remember the convention being discussed.

· Mitchell, who is President Nixon's re-election campaign manager, told reporters that he does not feel the ITT hearings are having a substantial political impact.

In a sharp exchange with Tunney, the former Attorney General said "there are no grounds for suspicion" of himself or of Richard G. Kleindienst, the man to replace him in the cabinet, in the ITT case.

"It's a house of cards that has been built up,"Mitchell said.

· Cook, joined by several other Republicans on the committee, charged the press with "total and complete irresponsibility" in reporting the ITT investigation. He made specific complaints against The New York Times, The Washington Evening Star and The Washington Post.

 Kennedy charged that Mitchell intervened in late 1970 to prevent the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department from filing a housing discrimination complaint against Coldwell-Banker and Company, a California real estate firm.

But Mitchell denied that charge and said, "I do not know those people and would have no reason" to intervene in a case involving the real estate firm.

Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania launched what he said would be a daily discussion of situations involving "Democratic fat cats" and alleged improprieties.

For a start, Scott charged that during the Johnson administration, an antitrust suit against the Anheuser-Busch brewing company was settled by the Justice Department after a large contribution to a campaign fund for President Lyndon B. Johnson.

It was learned that William Merriam, head of ITT's Washington office and the person to whom Mrs. Beard's controversial memo was ad-dressed, will tell the committee that he never received it and is puzzled by its contents.

Geneen was cheerful and jovial during his testimony in the afternoon. He said that he approved the antitrust settlement with the Justice Department even though he "thought it was unfair," because he wanted to minimize the risks of losing more when the cases went to the Supreme Court.

He said he had no apologies for a battery of meetings with icy," because he feared that a new policy toward conglomer. help cut the balance of pay-lost Peru . . . and last year lawyer and former federal nity to be heard on the sub-dollar. ject.

WASHINGTON POST Thursday, March 16, 1972

portrayed the company he has billion from abroad, without moving against conglomerates heads of other departments headed for the past 12 years imports, to the credit side of on a theory of "bigness per and agencies, Geneen said. as one which battled on the the U.S. balance of payments." se" which was epitomized by Supporting a position taken side of "the national interest" Describing financial prob- former Assistant Attorney by Kleindienst before the in these trying times."

about "general antitrust pol-been "uniquely positioned" to said, "We lost Cuba . . . We inent Republican New York ates would be adopted without ments deficit and help stem we lost Chile." giving Congress an opportu- the decline in the value of the Geneen said his discussions case "to see if he could per-

Because of its foreign in ation of its subsidiaries by now a federal judge.

of antitrust policy with high suade (the Justice Depart-During the next 10 years, he government officials con-ment) to consider . . . a re-In a long discourse on busi- testified, ITT will "bring back cerned his feeling that the view of these policy considerness and economics, Geneen something on the order of $5 Nixon administration was ations" that would include the lems of ITT during expropri- General Richard W. McLaren, committee, Geneen said he high officials in Washington vestments, he said, ITT has foreign governments, Geneen Lawrence E. Walsh, a promjudge, was called into the

had the impression that

McLaren was in "complete exactly 10 days before the yesterday erroneously report-in part inspired by the sug-gestion by Jack Anderson these points:

offer to the San Diego Con-cial Merriam. The photograph ter M. Flanigan at meetings vention and Tourist Bureau showed Mardian and Mitchell with Rohatyn and Mitchell last to support the GOP conven-conferring. tion was made last July 21, . That The Evening Star lated to ITT.

The current hearings were Cook's complaints against 1970.

control and charge" of anti-settlement of the antitrust ed the date of Mitchell's meettrust policy and the ITT set cases, but that there was "no ing here with Geneen as Auconnection' between the two. gust 1971 instead of August

• That a report in The Washington Post yesterday about that Kleindienst had exercised . That The New York Times Mitchell's testimony on Tuesimproper influence during erroneously captioned a photo- day "read like a Jack Anderfive meetings last year with graph of Assistant Attorney son column" because it gave ITT director Felix G. Rohatyn. General Robert C. Mardian undue emphasis to the pres-Geneen confirmed that ITT's yesterday as that of ITT offi- ence of White House aide Peyear to discuss matters unre-