The Washington Merry-Go-Round

THE WASHINGTON POST Thursday, Nov. 23, 1972

Slow Christmas Mail Delivery Seen

By Jack Anderson

At the best of times, Christmas mail service is anything but a joy to the world. The prospect this season is that Christmas deliveries will be slower than ever.

Postmaster General Elmer Kassen has taken a Scroogelike attitude toward the postal establishment, cutting back services and blaming the mail interested in snitching the jam upon the American Postal Workers Union. He complained recently about parcels damaged by careless handling sleet and cold drizzles. and mail handlers who didn't handle mail. He had even seen, he grumped, a postal known as junk mail, is gumtruck driver servicing a deming up the system. It acfunct railway spur.

Equally unfestive, president Francis Filby wrote Klassen a private letter saying his charges were "far-fetched" and an "effort on your part to economizers try to jack up employees. . . ."

on high, down in the mail committees. A former commiting freeze last March has post- Brewster men and clerks bristling with been convicted of accepting Commission rules require mu- tively considering the ITT disanger and fatigue. Personnel bribes from a mail-order tual funds to tell all to proproblems, involuntary retire- house to oppose higher junk- spective buyers. This lets cusments and transfers are rife.

now handling mail formerly more clogged. retirement.

suburban post offices in the sales on a specific day. last 18 months to the mammoth mail centers.

Already, many urban postand some must work a sevenday week. The work force is being "bolstered" by 90-day "casuals" who often are more mas deliveries. ages than in defying snow,

Meanwhile, third-class Christmas advertising, better counts for 23.6 per cent of the tive buyers and its 366,000 union volume but brings in only 15 per cent of the revenue.

Every time congressional violates the law. denigrate the rank and file the rates, the junk mail lobby ton fund about the disclosures starts playing Santa Claus to of its legal problems, that it While these two titans raged the House and Senate postal has refused even to make pubrooms attrition from the hir- tee member ex-Sen. Daniel mains silent. (D-Md.), has just mail rates. So the rates remain tomers decide whether they told us the NASD violations Some 670,000 workers are low, and the mails become delivered by 740,000. Another Indeed, some junk mailers, 180,000 are eligible for layoffs, pressure local post offices enforce its own disclosure mentioned were relevant to many of these for involuntary into giving the junk mail im- rules with the politically pow-Ten thousand mediate delivery right along erful ITT. postal employees have been with first-class mail, especially transferred out of rural and when the junk mail advertises ilton omissions by posing as arrive at the post office at 6 fails completely to mention a.m., and sort out the junk mail until noon before they men are working mandatory begin their routes. Once on suspension from trading by overtime of three hours a day the route, the postman must the National Association of Sedeliver the junk mail to every curities Dealers (NASD.) house-unlike first class mail which may miss some houses -thus further delaying Christ-

All this adds new emphasis fudge from Christmas pack- to the seasonal suggestion that people mail their Christmas cards and parcels early.

Another ITT Case

fund refuses to tell prospecinvestors about its problems despite charges by a Ralph Reuben Robertson. The filing Nader group that this silence

So worried is the ITT-Hamillic all the reasons why it re-want to risk their savings with occurred more than two years the fund. But the SEC has ago and contended that none shown a strange reluctance to of the three legal cases we

We discovered the ITT-Ham-

a prospective buyer. The pros-In such cases, mailmen must pectus the company sent us ITT-Hamilton's recent one-day

Nor did the ITT-Hamilton prospectus tell us that a federal district court has enjoined ITT from violation SEC regulations. Among other things, the SEC has charged that ITT failed to register certain stocks.

Finally, the ITT-Hamilton A $700 million ITT mutual brochure told us nothing about a petition filed against ITT by Ralph Nader associate demands that ITT divest itself of the Hamilton funds and make public its legal problems.

At the Securities and Exchange Commission, deputy enforcement chief Stanley Securities and Exchange Sporkin said the SEC is acclosure question. ITT-Hamilton President Frank Peirson the prospectus or required by SEC rules.

© 1972, United Feature Syndicate