SNIPER'S VICTIMS—The body of Vincent Maher, 31, lies slumped in seat of Long Island Railroad car as police aid Gabriel Jansen, 48, in New York's Penn Station. A single bullet wounded Jansen and killed Maher as the train entered a tunnel in Queens. Police charged James Whitmore, 16, (below), with homicide. The youth, whose father committed suicide several years ago, was quoted as saying he had fired at the train with a .30-.02 sawed-off rifle "just for the whim of it."
