Dave Wrone 1518 Blackberry Lane Stevens Point, WI 54481 Dear Dave,

I got drowsy before finishing this early a.m. and got a ahowt nap before Katie came. I did not address - amd here company came. Two Chio schoolteachers who come between our birthdays every year, take us to lunch, visit for a while and then go back home the same day.

On tackling Mantik headon, this is another sign that Kurtz is moving in on your book, for various reasons. Ditto for his telling you what Z frames you should use-and pay for.

I think that you have to stay out of that forgery controversy, all the different ones, and that any such controversy after the book is out would be hurtful to it. I also think the best thing to do is to dismiss them all. But your from all.

The only possible purpose for any alleged forgery of the Z film is to make it support the official account of the assassination. The Z film, as it stands, as it was introducer into evidence, does not support the official account of the assassination. It destroys the "solution" of the Warren Report. One was is in the book, proving that the so-called first shot was before Z210 and at a time it could not have come from that so-called Oswald window. Nobody would forge a flm and have it defeat the purposes of the alleged forgery, no matter how attractive a case those who consider themselves Shirerlock Holmes returned may make up.

Some of those who have their own forgery theories blame the forgery on the CIA. Well, the CIA itself proved that the fibm does must support the Report. Weisber used only a few pages of what the Relin/Rockefeller Commission hawd and suppressed in his 1976 reprint of Photographic Whitewash and not one of the interpretations has that first shot at Z 210. As Kurtz was as familiar with Weisberg's work as he says in his slurs, he should know

This is not all in that film destructive of the official solution. I'm keep another as a surprize. But getting into a pointless hassle does a book no good and can easily harm it in several ways...If you'd like to ignore it, this is enough reason. It not, use asome variation of the above. But keep Kurtz

I've taken another look at his list of frames the would have you pay for. Your book is Not about JFK's alleged injuries, it is about the film and dishonesties with it, and your supposed helper omits that and adds is as a mere possibility, an afterthought.

Please send me his coming long er list as soon as you can and as En-mail to Jerry might be fastest if you check with him in advance.

I do not think you should get into it if you can avoid it but as that dope Kurtz does not realize the explosion in JFK's head at 2313 disproves the aport. 'Military ammo does not act that way, cannot under the Genera convention.

attached. n NPIC ound. Olsen limited his request. This limited the response. The initial limit is to "textual materials." There were other materials, such as pictures. The request does not cover them. It next is limited to what was given to the Secret Service. While this may or may not have other significances, why did the request not include what - if anything - was given to the Warren Commission, the chief investigator, or the FBI, which did most of its investigative, lab and photographic work? Why did it not include records that may never have left the CIA?

One of the possible significances is that for the first week after the assassination there was no Warren Commission. The Secret Service is responsible for presidential security.

The CIA's maskers eliminated its name in copying these records. It then obliterated the nonsecret name of the Director and/or his signing assistant. The cult of secrecy.

Also nameless through masking is the addressee of a covering memo from the Office of the Director of the National Photographic Intelligence Center, if not also the author.

NPIC, we have been assured going back to long before Kennedy was President, is the world's best at photo interpretation. President Eisenhower told us of its capability in that earlier period: it could read road stripes in pictures taken from 200 miles up.

These best of photo interpreters, cued in, limited themselves to "written or typed papers." The spooks then built in their own protection by saying there were "four photo briefing boards made from the Zapruder film."

While there are ambiguities, there is no doubt of the existence of cIA prints made of individual frames of the Zapruder film. There also is no doubt that these prints were neither asked for nor volunteered. The records "found" include 28 individual prints made from 28 separate frames.

Unless handwritten notes are "briefing boards," copies of the briefing boards were not provided and not asked for. Pictures are not "textual materials."

There are two different versions of the list of prints, one handwritten, with some annotations, the other typed.

Here it is necessary to recall the official explanation of the crime. The Commission decided that the first shot could not have been fired before Frame 210 and was fired before Frame 225, which captured the President's reaction when the camera caught him which captured the President's reaction when the camera caught him emerging from behind a road sign (R98ff.). This conclusion is absomering the same of the conclusions. The second shot, the one lutely basic to all other conclusions. The second shot, the one said to have missed, could not have been fired for at least 42 frames, or 2.3 seconds. This is limitless optimism, but it is official. It also represents a problem because Governor Connally is seen not reacting to his five wounds after the President has reacted. Connally also testified to having been hit by a separate bullet between Frames 231 and 234 (R106). This, of course, is total destruction of the whole official solution. Here the Commission avoids stating the number of the frame that shows the explosion of the head, 313. It considers that the single fatal shot (R110).

Between the time of the officially-allowed first shot and any point at which Connally's reaction is visible, there was no time for another shot. This is why the Commission, determined to find a lone-nut assassin and no conspiracy, invented the palpable fraud that one shot, the first, inflicted all seven nonfatal wounds suffered by both men.
