Dear Robert Lingenfelter,

I know where Bear is. Worked on the Morning News and probably also before you were born, the Sunday Star, long defunct. Deservedly, I add.

You may find it disillusioning but please believe me, you can't believe those books that theorize conspiracies. Not even their notes. I did get a vast quantity of records via a dozen FOIA lawsuits and make them available to all writing in the field, but it is well beyond my capability to make and sell copies. As that nut knew I have difficulty getting access to them myself because they are in our basement and my ability to use the stairs is quite limited.

The only thing I seal is my books. And if you are interested in the FACT of the assassination rather than the fictions they are the only available source of fact. The books come from the official records, as none of the others does.

I add an unsolicited caution: if you attempt to teach from those fabrications that can be made attractive, as all fiction can be, you will wind up ashamed and you will deceive and mislead your students.

May I also call to your attention that there is no reasonably useable selection of those records that can be used for other than shock purposes without a background and understanding you cannot get from such books as the one that misled you on what I am able to do.

Please excuse my typing. It cannot be any better.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
