Dear Mr. Longton,

I had to monitor a radio and two TV news shows in which I was not otherwise interested this evening. I'm now a few minutes away from a broadcast. Were it not for these interruptions in stead work that is important to me I'd not have taken time to read the Thornley garbage called an affidavit.

Its chief interesst to me is the self-portrait. I've long felt he was crazy. I am now without doubt.

To an uninformed but critical reading it should be worthless. Everybody in the world was involved in the JFK assassination.

I know much of him of that period because his craziness with Lifton gave me no other choice. He is unfaithful and selective in his account, hardly an affidavit anyway.

He is rong on names and even the geography of where he lived. He is wrong in his accounts, as of McAuliffe, McCulloch to him. Martin was turned off by Thornley, his incompetence, his arrogance, his insensitivity.

Kerry worked not at Arno's but at Arnaud's, a famous tourist trap.

The stuff about me is nonsense. All I did was see that he was getting into trouble. So I told Bolton, a drunken bum, not the person protrayed, that I thought I could help him keep out of trouble. No more. So Kerry did not listen and did get into the quite visible and unnecessary trouble.

He has a sick ego. He is a fink. He volunteered to fink to the FBI on Oswald or others, I've forgotten which, on his own initiative and after he was intervoewed.

He is a dangerous man, having beaten up women and almost blinded weaker men who undertook to defend them.

He is a thoroughly bad, thoroughly undependable man who has never come to realize that he has nothing from which he can hope for fame. He can't even hold a job. Of any kind.

He is not a good liar. He could have gone to Dallas instead of Mexio and for less money at the time he said it was not possible.

He tried, with Lifton, to pin a bum rap on Heindell. Garrison did not give Heindel a rough time, they did try to.

Please excuse the haste and the errors. You are off on a loser, no matter how you got it. Anything with Thornley is a loser.

When I can I'll try to locate the Brooks affidavit. I think it is in dead storage.

The report is Hoke May.

Bradley did work for Lockheed, but World War II. Bad as he is as a person tyere is no basis for connecting him with anything.

Don't recall the Philippines statement but if it were substantial I think I'd have known of it. There is so much junk. Try not to get ensnared.

Soncerey
