Dear Harold,

Thanks for the letter - and for sending the books. I asked our book order person to send the order off on the same day we spoke about it, but evidently there was slippage. Unfortunately, we don't have the energy to act as your wholesaler but if the opportunity presents itself we certainly will place the books ~~xxx~~ in other stores (and let you know)

I too am sorry that the interview fell through. It was a very hectic week for me in a lot of ways. If I can set up a speaking engagement for you which would pay the plane fare I certainly will do so. Sorry to hear that Liebeler backed out but that isn't unexpected news. Unfortunately, I think the phone suggestion would be too expensive.

Give my best wishes to your wife. Incidentally, either I or someone from the staff will be in New Orleans for the trial (if it happens). We could do the interview then.
