

Dear Jeff,

7/29/80

Fortunately I'd made a set of copies of what I sent in the event you called and filed them by subject for the future. Rae remembered adding your name, so it was no problem retrieving. I've made copies, which are not nearly as clear, but I'm saving the time required for getting the originals and will take this to the local post office immediately.

I'll leave it up to them about special delivery, certified, etc., on what can save or take time.

Hastily,
