Dear Mr. Lamont,

As I now remember it about a month ago, when the youngster I had asked to obtain certain available records I thought might be of use to Mr. Boudin had not supplied them I sent you those that remained in my files and renewed my request to him.

Twelve days after he mailed them to me from an hour away from here by car these came today.

I have no way of knowing whether they are of use so I send them on the chance. I would appreciate their return. No rush. Merely for archival value in the future.

The smaller pages at least are government size. If he did what I asked these are all copies made by the government.

I have not forgotten your interest in certain pictures. We had a flood locally some time back. My photographic store and office supplier both were wiped out, their stores' contents with it. I have deposited these pictures in the form of slides elsewhere. I have reminded the friend he was to have duplicated these. In time I will get them to you. Please forgive the delay. I have not forgotten but I have no staff and I am very deeply involved in a large number of once-suppressed records I believe are of great importance. I must go over them with care. I have let almost everything else slide to be able to do this. Making sense of these records requires work almost nobody else has done. In addition to the ordinary archival value in this material I can see special importance in the training of lawyers, most of all to contend with political frame-ups. Thus it is not my first priority. It takes much time, long a day as I still work.

When I obtain these pictures I will send them to you. If I do not obtain them by the time this immediate pressure is relieved I will renew my efforts.

However, I am sorry I have not been able to do this by now.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
