I've just heard that hark here has filed a $12.2 million suit against Nother Jones and I suppose you. He never lets one of themmy he files go to trial because if he ever should win, which is dubious, he'd not survive the damages test, with his record and he'd be lucky to get 5¢.

It would be great if Lother Jones has the spunk to file a counter suit. Or if, with diversity of citimenship and demages over $10,000, you could in Boston.

I can make an energity of information available, and a very considerable volume of tapes, make not one of which I made myself.

He once was telling others he'd one me. So I wrote him and said if what has gotten back to you is not enough, you are also a crock, a plagiarizer, a nonstep hiar and many other things. I died that if he did not consider these enough for him to file his provised suit I could undoubtedly survive the displeasure of thinking more about him and would then provide him more in writing. Since then no such cracks have gotten back to me.

Any trial of Lane would make a book and it would sell.

It could also be the most hilarious thing ever.

Hope you are making out well.

est wishes,
