Warren Report Debated for 5 Hours on British 7

Special to The New York Times

outside legal authorities to pro-vide comment. They were Prof. Lord Devlin said. If he had to ling about a number of other Alexander M. Bickel of the Yale choose, he would agree with subjects until he was asked to the commission's choice of the stop. LONDON, Jan. 30-"Even a vide comment. They were Prof. dead President is entitled to Alexander M. Bickel of the Yale choose, he would a some bodily repose. Let him Law School and Lord Devlin, rest in peace."

casting Company carried the program to examine doubts of evidence of any conspiracy."

Lord Devilin's conclusion must have been shared by many viewers. All the television discussion manifestity failed to carry any hit President Kennedy and Gov. The assassination.

Ninety minutes on the program to Judgment." It rehearsed Mr. Lane's flow as a sid, to have a small from Mark Lane's book, "Rush to Judgment." It rehearsed Mr. Lane's contentions that the Warren Commission and erred in naming Lee Harvey Oswald as the sole assassin.

The film, a slow-moving one, consisted largely of Mr. Lane's interviewing witnesses who disagreed with some aspects of the Warren report. One reviewer today described it as "technically amateurish."

Lord Deviln concluded that acted alone, Lord Deviln said interviewing witnesses who disagreed with some aspects of the Warren report. One reviewer today described it as "technically amateurish."

Two lawyers who worked for the warren Commission, Arien the Warren Compassion, Arien the probability. The second was sweet of the warren Compassion, Arien the warren Compassion, Arien the warren Compassion, Arien the warren Compassion, Arien the probability. The second was sweet to any the probability of the Arien the probability of the Arien the Ari

Those words, spoken by Lord who is widely considered Englowin, brought to an end early land's most distinguished legal today nearly five hours of television on the death of President Rennedy. The British Broadcasting Company carried the dow of a scintilla of evidence of the program to examine doubts raised about the assassination.

Single bullet theory.

To have still another official inquiry would do no good, Lord Devlin suggested, because the him because he suspected "the motives of people who have continued in the shandle was "not the shandle with the same of its finding any significant further evidence on those three improbabilities was exaggerated importance over an program to examine doubts."

But he said he was "not sat-

TF oper Pla D