Dear Andy,

Your order has gone. We were able to take it to the post office this morning.

As you may remember, neither of us can use the stairs. So we have just learned that our supply of the first Whitewash is almost exhausted.

I phoned the people who did it and learned they are out of business.

From the yellow section I've spoken to someone else local who can do it. He is to send a salesman to look at the job.

In thinking of this I remembered that Andy Frewin, ^{England} sent me something you had printed for him.

That made me wonder if yours is a lower-price area.

So I write to ask, you having the book and being able to show it, if you deal with anyone there who might be interested in the job and could price it more competitively.

The volume we order would not be large, given our ages and the state of our health. The volume also might depend on the cost per copy. As you may recall, I told you that all we have is already dedeed to Local Hood College. The original understand was they would make all available and would sell the books.

I do think that binding is required. I've not had a single complaint about it and the people who get the book want it to last. I think it is called "velo."

I've been meaning to ask you if you are the man from Williamsport who phoned the Larry King show when Mailer was on it, asked about the timing of the alleged Oswald flight and got the answer from Mailer that it was "transcendental?" I've used that in what I've written.

Which is of about 200,000 words, ridicules the hell out of him and Schiller, and in the course of it brings new information to light as well as reminding some of what is known and largely forgotten and tells others what they did not know about the fact rather than the fancies about the assassination.

Thanks and best to you both,
