Dear Paul,

Thanks for the Dutka story. I've written her but have not taken the time to rewrite it as I should have.

By coincidence the young friend who did the fine documentary, "Reasonable Doubt," was here when the mail came.

Then I could not remember whether I'd sent you a cassette.

So, when he is back out there he'll phone to ask you. If I didn't, he'll be glad to send you ~~more~~ one.

He is working on a documentary about the Pelitier case, Wounded Knee, as I recall, that Robert Redford has an interest in.

He also has what I believe is a fine idea, a treatment of "Inside the Warren Commission." We spent some time discussing it. I think there is more than enough new and interesting if not exciting documentation for a series, not just a movie.

If anyone is willing to stand up to the FBI.

That would be inevitable.

Thanks for the good wishes.

They come just as I learned that four or five disks in the ~~lower~~ lower back are degenerating and that I've arthritis in the more severely damaged foot.

But for me and at my age every day is a fine one!

Thanks and best to you both,

Heard
