

9/12/71

Dear Jim,

I've noticed the 7/25/71 National Enquirer sent to Ray by "A Friend". The handwriting seems familiar. Other samples of it?

If there is any significance in the sending of this thing, which I don't think does not seem to be the case, my hunch is that it would be in the story quoting Billy Graham as living in fear of assassination. I didn't write the story, but I did the headline.

I suppose there are a certain number of sick people who get an urge to do something that to them may have a meaning others do not see.

Best,
