Dear Mr. Meisel:

Harold is very busy writing new manuscripts in which he is writing book-length studies of books written by others on the subject of JFK and the assassination. Since he is not containing any thought of publication, what he is now doing is laying out a broad factual view of what many other authors have written which is detrimental to learning the truth.

Despite his growing weakness, he labors at his desk most of his waking hours, trying to be as specific as possible in what he is putting on paper so that those researchers who use the material will understand its meaning. As he has told you, all his work will be housed in an archive at the local Hood College.

Occasionally someone sends him articles from a paper or other source but he hasn't received any of the new documents released and he would be very appreciative of your sending him copies of those you find interesting. It is very kind of you to offer.

We are glad that you were able to attend the November 22 conference in Dallas. That seems to draw people from all over. I am glad you found it interesting. We know of several others who attended.

Thank you for your good wishes. We both appreciate them.

Sincerely,

Lillian Weisberg

*And many thanks
in the gift certificate, too!*

Have a good year!

Harold

Merry X-Mas,

As you can tell I am very poor at writing, but I still want you to know that I ~~think~~ ^{offer} think back upon the kindness you showed me and I.

We both appreciated the time you spent with us and your hospitality. I heard you had been having some health problems I hope this card finds you improving.

I was able to get to Dallas for the conference they held on Nov. 22.

There were some very interesting presentations. It seems like the more records that are ~~released~~ released the more news information that comes to light.

Thanks again

I don't know if you get any of the news documents or articles or them from someone, but if you don't let me know ^{and} I will try to send you copies of the ~~information~~ ones.

Wishing you
Joy and Peace
this Holiday Season!
