Dear Mr. Weisberg:

I am writing to offer my personal thanks for your scholarship and steadfastness in presenting such authoritatively written books which will stand out in the recent avalanche of literature on the Kennedy assassination. Through your pioneering efforts, I have been able to witness the growth of complicity through the executive agencies and the moral decline of our system of justice because of them.

The November issue of Esquire tells me of your recent efforts to procure more information concerning the spectrographic analyses of the bullet fragments—information never presented to the Warren Commission. Is there some way in which I can keep up with your activities and progress and the court's decision in this matter?

Enclosed you will find a check for $20.00. I wish to obtain the Whitewash series for my permanent library. Too, I wish to stay informed of any other books you may be planning in the future.

Perhaps through your diligence, the American people will be afforded the truth. Until that time I'm afraid it will be for all Kennedy with tears.

Sincerely yours,
Ronald W. Monti

Dear Mr. Monti,

Letters like yours mean much to me. To date they are the only external reward. They are encouraging when little else is. For whatever it may mean to you, I am continuing my work. I have never stopped. However, publication is still not the likely prospect for the kind of work I do.

Please note the address to which we moved more than six years ago. Mail is no longer forwarded to us. We got your letter because someone brought it to us.

I have two other books. Oswald in New Orleans, an original reprint that sold at 95¢, is out of print. I was paid nothing for it. I do have a few copies. However, I must get for them the cost of replacing them by xerox, $20. I enclose a flyer on the other.

The three Whitewash books go with this.

Many thanks for your kind words. They do mean much.

Sincerely,
