

Dear Gary,

4/13/93

Enclosed is a copy of my today's letter to Dr. Artwohl whose address I got from the JAMA article, for which thanks. (It also refers to something on 1507)

I've forgotten to ask you if Harry has Dave Perry in his conspiracy. Or if Harry's letters included to Dave. If he has any useful ^{ones} copies I'd appreciate copies,

For some time Peggy Adler Robohm has been gunking up for the Baltimore police non-investigation. Because the last I'd heard Buck had taken a turn for the worse I sent something to Peggy and wrote her separately, leaving it up to her to decide, as I felt I could not, whether that would further distress Mary because of Buck's condition. I gave her to understand quite clearly that I was conveying the information, not copies of letters from which it came, because she was giving everything to Adams, or telling him, when all the indications are or a whitewash and coverup. She phoned me yesterday with a real and upsetting tirade beginning with the grossest misrepresentation of what I'd written her, responding to nothing I'd written and never addressing anything I'd said in response to her tirade. I'm glad she got another call and I'm glad she did not call back, as she said she would. ~~Bill~~, who was sitting next to me and heard it all because I now use speakerphones, was even more distressed than I. If I hear more from Peggy I'll respond but otherwise I'm cutting off. If Mary knows this it will distress her and she will probably get a completely garbled account if she gets it from Peggy. I believe this atypical unthinking, police-buff attitude probably comes from her present personal situation. But I'm not up to that anymore and will avoid what I can.

Peggy told me that Mary had mailed me several things last week that have not come. One is Harry's letter appointing me chief of our imagined conspiracy. That, obviously, as I'd made clear earlier, is important with me making the complaint locally. And Harry did send at least one copy to someone other than Mary because I know of that one. I do not know what accounts for Mary's reluctance to let me have to give to the prosecutor what Harry has in any event and has distributed. But I'm not asking either one for anything.

I did get a letter from Mary and I responded to that promptly.

Harry, by the way, says he has contracts for two books. And in one letter that I think I got from Gary Shaw, who sent me what was helpful even though his copier was not working well, there is an odd reference to a "Mack." If I do not get clear copies from Gary when his machine is fixed I'll go over these again and send you a copy.

Roger Feinman told me that all at Chicago was videotaped and that Lundberg, who confessed ignorance, and Lattimer were really clobbered.

Lattimer's piece abounds in deliberate lies, a number of misrepresentations and not a smattering of ignorance. He and Artwohl are from the flat-world society, Well, I guess that Lattimer is really of the nether world.

Best,
