Dear Gary,

I'll appreciate a copy of Crazy Harry's crazy assault on you for some of the other craziness in it, too.

The two Dallas indexes I mentioned are documents and people and each is restricted to what DL sent to DC in the expectation it would reach the WC.

It is not complete and does not include what they did not intend to go anywhere else.

It is the people, rather names index that was more than 40 feet long, 3x5 cards.

I am not anxious to sell the books I published because then I'll have them for those who really want them. But in selling any book you can be criticized as I wrote the woman who seemed like a fine person who was originally in charge. Most of the books are in varying degrees bad and mislead and deceive. I go into this to suggest that your people may want to consider a disclaimer over the books they do sell.

If in time they should decide to get any of ours Lil will, I'm sure, give them the discount she gives book stores. It varies with the number and I do not know what it is. On that part I'm the common labor. I make and mail the packages.

Later they'll be at Hood College probably at the book store there.

Best to all,
