Dear Mrs. Beare,

God and the postal service alone may know what befell your letter of 11/29. It reached me today in terrible shape, having also been wet, with this stamp on the envelope (from which the stamp was gone): "Damaged in air, rail, truck or ship accident beyond control of the US Postal Service." Well, I guess they don't wreck ships coming here from "holo!

I enclose a flyer on the books you do not mention. These will go out in tomorrow's mail, so you should have them by Xmas.

Sincerely,
