Kenyatta Remains on Critical List

N E W YORK Charles 37X Kenyatta, who once said Negroes could only gain freedom "with the barrel of a gun," remained in critical condition in Fordham Hospital yesterday after being shot in the chest and arm by unidentified black gunmen.

The goateed former bodyguard for the late Malcolm X and organizer of the bayonet and machete-carrying Harlem Mau Maus, was shot Saturday night as he was getting out of his car in the Bronx.

He had stopped on a residential street to discharge one of two women passengers, police said.

Witnesses said Kenyatta, born Charles Roberts, was hit by two of five shots fired from a passing car occupied by several Negro men, who sped away.

Despite his militancy, Kenyatta frequently appears with white politicians and has worked with city officials on slum problems. He accompanied Mayor John V.
 Lindsay to Dr. Martin Luther King's funeral in 1968 and last year walked arm-in-arm with Lindsay and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller at a King memorial.
