Memo - SAC, DALLAS (69-43)

Mrs. GRANT advised that the article is supposed to be published in the November, 1976, issue of "D" Magazine. She has beet asked about treatment given her by representatives of the Warren Commission, Dallas Police Department, United States Secret Service and the FBI. She indicated she has told these interviewers that everyone has treated her extremely nice and that she has no complaints whatsoever.

Mrs. GRANT was advised that her information would be made a matter of record, but that her decision concerning interviews and photographs were her decisions to make. She indicated she felt relieved that she had made the foregoing information known to the FBI.

On 9/27/76 a personal acquaintance, ROBERT FINKLEA, a free lance writer for "D" Magazine, advised that JUDY POLILL, a writer for "D" Magazine, was doing a nostalgic story about the assassination and was the individual who had been in contact with Mrs. GRANT. He did not know the identity of the man.

ACTION: Index and file.
