THE EVENING STAR Washington, D. C., Wednesday, March 29, 1967

Novel Asking Dismissal Of 'Plot' Probe Warrant

NEW ORLEANS (AP)-Dist. | Her appearance in court today

Attorney Steve Plotkin was scheduled to appear here today before Criminal Dist. Judge Edward Haggerty to seek The New Orleans Parish dismissal of Garrison's warrant for the arrest of Gordon Novel as a material witness.

Roommate Subpoenaed

In Omaha, Lillie Mae Mc- Maines-known in New Orleans whether to waive can attend the second secon

Atty. Jim Garrison's Kennedy was solely on the matter of assassination conspiracy probe waiving extradition. If Mrs. is moving back into courtrooms, McMaines, 22, decides to fight here and in Nebraska. her return to Louisiana, a pre-> grand jury subpoenaed Layton P. Martens, 24, a onetime roommate of the late David W.

Ferrie, to appear today. Garrison has charged that In Omaha, Lillie Mae Mc Maines—known in New Orleans as Sandra Moffett—will decide whether to waive extradition conspired to murder President murder conspiracy charge and is free on a $10,000 bond.

Denies Attending Party

Perry Raymond Russo, 25, of Baton Rouge testified at a preliminary hearing for Shaw two weeks ago that he heard Shaw, Ferrie and Oswald plot-ting in mid-September 1963 to kill Kennedy.

The plotting, Russo said, occurred following a party at Ferrie's home. Russo said Sandra Moffett was at the party and at one point referred to her as "the girl I brought." Mrs. McMaines, said she did not attend the party and did not meet Ferrie until 1965. She is now the wife of Harold Mc-Maines, 48, a part-time Omaha minister.

David Kroman, 43, was sent to a mental institution forexamination after he told a federal judge in Bismarck, N.D., that he was threatened because he had conducted an investigation of the Kennedy assassination-and had documents to prove a conspiracy.